Home is Where the Heart Is Couple Loves Shenandoah So Much, They Get Married There

Lake Frederick, Virginia, June 14, 2008 – Ginger McClure and John Harris are in love with their community, the surrounding countryside, and each other. That abiding affection led to their marriage today in the Shenandoah Welcome Center in front of their families, neighbors and friends. It was a complete community effort, as Dianne Camp, the officiating minister, is also a resident at Shenandoah.

Upstairs, the community sales associates were extolling the warm and cordial lifestyle found at Shenandoah, an active adult new home community. Downstairs, Ginger and John were becoming husband and wife. John's two sons, Wes and Ryan Harris, served as best men, and Dave and Scott McClure were their mother's men of honor. Bella, the family bulldog, served as a hostess at the reception.

"The entire community is excited about our first wedding," said Cheryl Glowaz, Ginger and John's neighbor and friend. Getting married at Shenandoah seemed perfect to Ginger and John, because they feel the community is so welcoming. "You move here today and tomorrow you're family," said Ginger. "This community is one big family—it's a very social place," added John.

Ginger and John met through their volunteer work as Scout leaders for the Boy Scouts of America, National Capital Area Council. Their love for the outdoors made Shenandoah the ideal spot to spend the rest of their lives together.

Surrounding 120-acre Lake Frederick, Shenandoah will feature 2,130 homes, including attached and detached single-family residences, town homes and condominiums. Beazer Homes and Winchester Homes are selling in Phase I with residences from the upper $300s. Shenandoah is being developed by The Oxbridge Group, an award-winning real estate development firm headquartered in Rockville, Maryland.
